

Griffin listed in “Financial Times 1000: Europe’s Fastest Growing Companies” report for second year running

- Griffin recognised in FT 1000 Europe’s fastest Growing Companies report 2019
- Report identifies and ranks Europe’s fastest growing companies, based on compound annual revenue growth between 2014 and 2017
- Griffin has seen strong growth based upon its continuing innovation and excellence in execution

Griffin has again been identified as one of Europe’s fastest growing companies based upon compound annual growth rate in revenue between the years 2014 and 2017.

Griffin has continued to build on its showing in the 2018 report to feature again this year alongside 63 other London based businesses, the top city represented in the report.

Over recent years, Griffin has developed into one of Europe’s leading energy venues having gained a reputation for delivering high quality service in all areas of its business on the back of constant innovation and improvements.

Commenting on Griffin’s inclusion in this year’s FT 1000 report, Simon Davidson, Griffin’s Chief Executive Officer said: “It’s great to see that the hard work of all at Griffin is continuing to result in sustained growth and shows that our ethos about integrity, innovation and providing service excellence is winning people over in the market.”
